Experts speak bluntly on Drug problem

Well in excess of 300 persons heard a panel of professional guest speakers discuss the misuse of drugs at a conference held last night at the St. Albert Roman Catholic Parish Hall. The evening was under the sponsorship of the St. Albert Public School District, the St. Albert Separate Protestant School District, the Sturgeon Health Unit, the St. Albert Ministerial Association and the Department of Youth.

Dr. R. B. Campbell, Psychiatrist, Royal Alexandra Hospital spoke on the pharmacological aspects of LSD and marijuana.

He said in experiments where LSD was tested on animals some startling results were found. Cats were afraid of mice, fish showed a tendency to swim vertically and in spiders the drug was found to have a definite effect on web spinning.

Dr. Campbell said it was found that the majority of humans using the drugs were anti-social, and there was a high incidence of sexual deviation among users.

Fifty million persons in the U.S. are using marijuana

LODE women hear family counselor

Mr. Don Storch, a counsellor with the Family Service Association of Edmonton spoke on "Communication in the Family," at the Nov. 13 meeting of the Father Lacombe Chapter, I.O.D.E. A lively discussion followed Mr. Storch's informative talk.

The meeting welcomed a new member in Mrs. Carol van Kesteren, who was installed by the Regent. The chapter participated in the Remembrance Day Service, and Mrs. Ruby Taylor placed a wreath at the cenotaph on behalf of the I.O.D.E.

The next meeting will be held Dec. 11 at the home of Mrs. A. Lantinga. This will be the Chapter's Christmas Party. Mrs. Diane McLean is convening the evening.

Mr. J. W. (Bill) Flynn works the controls and Mr. J. D. Campbell, deputy minister of hospital services, watches at right, as the bulldozer bucket turns the sod to officially launch construction of the Sturgeon General Hospital. The fact that the blade had been dug into the frozen ground at a 45 degree angle did not spoil Mr. Flynn's obvious pleasure in manipulating the lifting of this particular chunk of ground.

Hospital sod turning marks red-letter day for St. Albert and Sturgeon area

Saturday was a happy and auspicious day for the people of St. Albert and Sturgeon district, when their hopes over many years of having a hospital for their area were realized.

Mr. Gordon Townend, hospital administrator, was master of ceremonies, for the official sod-turning held Saturday on the site of the new one-hundred-bed Sturgeon General Hospital in St. Albert. After welcoming the approximately 60 persons who turned out for the event, Mr. Townend called on Rev. R. O. Olson. In his capacity as president of the St. Albert Ministerial Association Pastor Olson capably conducted a most fitting blessing of the site.

Mr. Bill Flynn, chairman of the hospital board spoke briefly and commented on the beautiful location chosen for the hospital. He invited those present to take special note of the view afforded, overlooking the town and the lake. (The hospital is being erected north of Youville Home).

Mr. Townend introduced J. D. Campbell, deputy minister of hospital services, who was representing the Minister of Health, Dr. J. Donovan Ross. Dr. Ross was unable to attend due to a previous engagement.

Mr. Campbell stunned his audience by declaring that he had been opposed to the Sturgeon General Hospital from the very beginning, that he had himself put every block possible in the way of the negotiations leading to approval of the project, and that he was still not convinced that this hospital is a good idea.

Following his remarks, Mr. Campbell, together with Mr. Flynn, boarded the bulldozer for the sod-turning, with Mr. Flynn at the controls. In keeping with modern methods the sod was officially turned by the bucket of the bulldozer, rather than the traditional hand shovel.

Kinsmen to aid teen centre

After a thorough examination of the teen centre problems and a meeting with the Sanctum executive and town officials, the Kinsmen Club, at its last general meeting endorsed the establishment of an advisory committee to assist and coordinate the orderly development and use of this centre.

The Kinsmen recognize the many difficulties faced by this age group and are hopeful that with a little help these young people can operate their teen centre in such a way as to make every citizen in St. Albert proud.

The Kinsmen are impressed by the young people who have dedicated themselves to assuring the success of this undertaking. A work party was held last Saturday and under the guidance of several Kinsmen a massive clean-up was launched.

These teen-agers are the future leaders and citizens of our society and as such deserve all the help and guidance that can be given to them.

Any interested citizens wishing to contribute their time and/or leadership in respect to this project are invited to do so. For information contact Derek Lucas, Kin chairman of the advisory board, at 599-7644.

Teenagers interested in membership and regulations governing their participation, may obtain information by calling one of the following Sanctum executive members: President Jens Oster, 599-8103; Vice-President David Cunningham, 599-4658; Secretary Marion Rindero 599-6204; Membership Chairman Albert Kennedy, 599-8482.

Socreds will elect premier next week

At this time next week, Alberta's Social Credit Party will be in the throes of electing a new leader and premier. Meeting in Edmonton from Dec. 4 to 6, the Socred delegates will put their finger on one of five men, Education Minister Ray Reiersen, Attorney-General Edgar Gerhart, Highways Minister Gordon Taylor, Municipal Affairs Minister Harry Strom or MLA Dr. Walter Buck.

There is still a slight possibility that Forestry Minister Alf Hooke may enter the race.

If it weren't for the late-model trucks in the background, this picture would appear to be straight out of the 1920s. It was, however, taken last week at Murray Drilling Co. R. D. Murray, left, made his premises available to Marl Brown, centre, and Chick Elnarson, partners in a service station at Mile 245 of the Alaska Highway, to prepare some antique vehicles they had just obtained for the trip home. Marl and Chick left the city Wednesday driving the late-model Volkswagen they arrived in and a 1926 Dodge truck loaded with a 1926 Model T and towing a 1930 Model A. They arrived in Fort St. John, 450 miles northwest of Edmonton and still 200 miles short of their destination, Saturday night. Marl, who has restored several old vehicles and motorcycles, comes by his interest in antiques honestly. His father, Don, who owns a Ford machinery agency in Delburne, has been doing it for years.

pital board hosted a reception and dinner for their guests at the Club Mocombo after the ceremony.

A resume of the formation of Hospital District #100 from its earliest beginnings was given in an appropriate address by Chairman Flynn at the dinner. He recalled how back in 1960 various villages in the district had originally worked on ideas for a number of small hospitals. These plans were later dropped in favour of working together for one larger hospital to service the entire area. He continued with a condensed progress report of the board's planning, work and negotiations since 1965 leading eventually to the sod-turning milestone being celebrated that day.

Included in the guest list were Mr. D. G. Forbes, architect, and Mrs. Forbes, Mr. Gus Simonmeier, contractor, and Mrs. Simonmeier; MLA Keith Everitt and Mrs. Everitt; Mayor Gibbon of St. Albert; Mayor Stapleton of Morinville and Romeo Boissonnault, secretary, representing the Village of Legal, and their wives. Sturgeon Hospital Board members were also present, with their wives:

Messrs. John de Bruijn and Richard Fowler, Town of St. Albert representatives; Mr. Roger Blackburn, Morinville representative and Messrs. Bill Flynn, Lawrence Kluthe and Stan Walker, representatives of the Municipal District of Sturgeon. Mr. J. D. Campbell, deputy minister did not attend.

Toastmaster John de Bruijn proposed three toasts in excellent form: firstly to the hospital and its future success, secondly to the people of the hospital district for their patience over the years, now to be rewarded with one of the finest facilities in the province, and thirdly, to the hospital board whose perseverance through many difficulties was responsible for bringing the project to this initial stage of construction.

Married 10 years, the couple decided to live it up on a second honeymoon. While talking over their plans one night, the husband kept glancing into the living room where a little old lady sat, knitting.

"The only thing that worries me," he said, "is what'll we do about your mother when we go away?"

"My mother?" his wife said. "I thought she was your mother!"

Dr. Campbell said, Of LSD users, the majority are in the 15-30 year age bracket, while marijuana users are generally younger. Most users are from the upper and middle class income groups, 72% are high school dropouts and 16% have some University education.

Describing a "trip", Dr. Campbell said the average trip lasts 6-8 hours. He added that in some cases a recurrence of the symptoms takes place three to four weeks after the drug was originally taken. He said some of the dangers encountered during a trip are homosexual impulses, suicidal attempts, convulsions and homicide.

Dr. Campbell said LSD has been used professionally to treat alcoholism, homosexuality and it is sometimes used on cancer patients to alleviate pain and decrease awareness.

Public attitude needs improving

Mrs. Elaine Riggs, educational Psychologist, Edmonton Public School Board, said it is unfortunate and wrong to identify the drug user or addict as a criminal "in the first place", she said, "this forces the user into a subculture, i.e., the drug scene, where the vicious circle of usage, guilt, more usage, begins to operate". Mrs. Riggs added that, once convicted, the user is institutionalized with criminals and hence identified with thieves, rapists, murderers, and is vulnerable to their attitudes and ideas, and is, in fact, educated as a future criminal.

She pointed out that the incidence of delinquency is low among drug users and that the usage of marijuana does not necessarily lead to usage of hard drugs, such as heroin.

"Drug users are in need of our help", she said, adding that the greater the furor raised by the public, the greater the problem would become.

Reverend S. R. Vincent, principal of Alberta College, said that the topic under discussion is "very emotionally loaded". He commented that mild use of marijuana does not have the physical and emotional damaging results of alcohol.

The Reverend Vincent feels that too much pressure is being put on the young people. "Let's go after the adults that use drugs", he said.

"Those cancer-cartridges you people are smoking are every bit as bad as marijuana smoking", said Dr. James Hackler, professor of sociology, University of Alberta.

Dr. Hackler said many drug addicts in England, who are getting their drugs through legal channels, are living respectable lives and hold jobs. "If drugs must be obtained on the illegal market, men will steal and women will turn to prostitution", he said.

The present law of putting marijuana in with hard drugs "does not make sense", Dr. Hackler said. As an alternative he suggested that perhaps the government could set up a "Alberta Marijuana Board, to go along with the Liquor Control Board".

A parent - student panel aired their views on the subject. Adults on the panel were Mr. and Mrs. W. Borgstede, Mr. L. Deutscher, Mr. William Penrose and Mr. A. Ralph. Student panelists were Brian Webb, Garry Wolgemuth, Lionel Durocher, Chris Soder and Bogumil Romanko.

In reply to a question put to them, both Lionel and Chris said they had not taken drugs themselves. Lionel, who attends S.A.H., said he is not aware of anyone in that school using drugs. Chris, a Paul Kane student, said he feels it is being dishonest with oneself to be taking drugs. He said he knows of a number of people who have taken drugs.

One boy of Paul Kane said after the program that he has taken drugs and enjoys it.

One mother in the audience charged the press with irresponsible journalism in its coverage of drug abuse. Mrs. Borgstede added that the recent publicity given to the effects of nutmeg resulted in its being removed from the shelves of supermarkets.

Dr. J. M. Howell, medical officer of health, Sturgeon Health Unit, called the meeting to a close at 11 p.m.

Meatless meat

First it was glued meat then it was "glueless meat" using the meat's own natural protein as the glue for assembling individual pieces of meat. Now, The Financial Post reports, it is meatless meat. It's another soy product for which a patent has been granted. Additives to give the correct taste, color and texture are first incorporated in a fibrous soy bean protein material and then the mixture is compressed so that the final product "resembles a meat product," the perfect companion for a glass of soy milk, The Financial Post says.

Miss Olwyn Tinning, who co-ordinated the recent Red Cross Blood Clinic in St. Albert reports the response was "just great." Because turnouts at previous blood clinics had been poor, the Red Cross was not too fussy on coming to St. Albert, Olwyn said. But the 162 pints of blood collected was far beyond any expectations and the Red Cross was very pleased. Some 25 young people from the two high schools and the Sanctum spent many hours telephoning, putting up posters and organizing.

The Youville Auxiliary will hold the regular monthly bingo for the residents of the Home, Thursday afternoon, Nov. 28. Lunch will be served.

Recreation in St. Albert

A well-attended general meeting of the Guild was held on Nov. 21 with Mr. Alvin Morris in the chair. The members approved the changing of the name of the Guild to the "St. Albert Arts and Crafts Guild." This step was taken as the Art Club is incorporated with what was formerly the St. Albert Craft Guild. Changes in the bylaws were passed and approval was given to the purchase of a high fire electric kiln on a provincial government equipment loan contract. The acquisition of this new piece of equipment will be of tremendous advantage to the Guild's ceramics classes as the present firing facilities are totally inadequate for the large numbers of people of all ages who are interested in this particular craft.

Leo Nickerson PTA meets

The regular monthly meeting of the Leo Nickerson PTA was held last Wednesday evening in the music room of the school.

A National Film Board film "The Child of the Future" was shown. Narrated by Marshall McLuhan, the film covered a wide area of audio-visual teaching aids some of which are already Comparisons were made between children growing up in an area void of any mechanical and electronic teaching aids and children of our modern society.

A short discussion period was followed by another film "The Impressionable Years".

Mrs. R. Cooper was honored at a baby shower Nov. 25 at the home of Mrs. V. Mellott, 37 Springfield Cresc. Fifteen friends and neighbors attended. Ray and Sheila Cooper, who live at 39 Springfield, became the proud parents of a baby boy, Scott Raymond, on Nov. 4, their second son.

Mrs. J. Kwak and Mrs. J. Telman welcomed some 150 guests last Thursday, when the St. Albert Protestant Kindergarten held an open house at Braeside Presbyterian Church. The work of the school's 58 students was on display and the children presented a delightful program of songs, accompanied on the accordion by Mr. J. Telman.

Rotary club aids Ontario school

Service clubs on the alert for community projects worth launching, might contemplate the work being done by the Rotary Club of Cobourg, Ont., in cooperation with the schools. Backed by the Rotary Club and the generosity of private citizens, Cobourg boasts a field studies centre, amounting to a 100-acre outdoor classroom for its school pupils. Enlightened school boards in some municipalities, such as Etobicoke, Ont., and Ottawa, have set up field study areas where urban youngsters can legitimately get their feet wet studying water life, insects, birds and the rest in their natural habitats. The Cobourg school board had no money to start one, so private citizens and Rotary came to the rescue.

Geoff Wright's rink wins Legion bonspiel

The Geoff Wright rink from St. Albert won the main event of the local branch of the Royal Canadian Legion's three-event bonspiel at the curling club at the weekend.

Wright took a 9-4 lead into the final end against W. Chandler in the deciding game and Chandler just ran out of rocks.

Wright had earlier knocked over Smith, J. Rawluk, Duplika and Lupul. Chandler had recorded victories over Good, C. Humphries and Strandquist.

Other members of the Wright rink were Jim Dobie and Brent and Garry Hodgins. Curling for Chandler were D. Maize, D. Templeton and B. Wackenhut.

D. Nalmsmith made it a runaway once he reached the final of B event as he downed D. Crichton 11-2. Curling with Crichton were B. Gillespy, E. Chibiri and J. Low. R. Jardine, F. Elliott and R. Girvan rounded out the Nalmsmith rink.

Rene Kambourff's foursome won C event, downing Rawluk 8-3 in the final. Kambourff won his opening game in A event over Gunn, then was beaten by Strandquist. Victories over Humphries, Smith, Scott and Rawluk then followed.

Curling for Kambourff were Ernie Jamison, Denny Glasgow and Larry Mitchell. Rawluk had J. Box, E. L. Temponer and M. Piegras.

St. Albert boxers win in Edmonton

Wayne Dorn has finally got on the winning track. The 135-pounder from the St. Albert Boxing Club pounded out a decision over Terry Guzak of the South Side Legion in Edmonton on Friday night.

It was Dorn's first victory in three fights this season. However, in his first fight a month ago in Breton, he put on such a game display in a losing cause that he won an award for sportsmanship.

Gary Larsen of St. Albert continued to impress, stopping Jim Mouldin of South Side on a referee's decision in the second round for his second straight victory in the 75-pound division.

One other St. Albert fighter who appeared on the South Side sponsored card in the Strathcona Legion Hall also won, Lonnie Eschak taking a unanimous decision over Darryl Quinn in the 90-pound division.

Blair Dorn was the only St. Albert boxer to take a loss, losing to Barry Morton of South Side in the 70-pound class.

Carspiel games set for here

The St. Albert Curling Club will play host to a draw of the Canadian Men's Open Curling Championships at 8 p.m., Dec. 4.

The event will have such name rinks as Hec Gervais of St. Albert, Ron Northcott of Calgary, Ernie Richardson of Regina and Merv Mann of Saskatoon competing for four new automobiles.

The carspiel is organized by Gervais and Wally Ursulak for the Edmonton Fire Department. Proceeds are used to aid in the fight against muscular dystrophy.

Several draws in the open, which will run from Dec. 3 to 8, will also be held in city curling rinks. The finals will be held in the Edmonton Gardens.

Admission for any draw except the final is $1.

Volleyball titles go south

The north central zone's representatives were knocked out in the semi-finals of the Alberta School Athletic Association's provincial playoffs in Edmonton on Saturday.

The Androsson boys' team went through the sectional round-robin without a loss but in the semi-finals bowed 15-12 and 15-11 to David Thompson High School from Concord. McCoy High School from Medicine Hat won the championship.

The girls team from Fort Saskatchewan lost 15-3 and 15-4 to Crescent Heights from Medicine Hat, the school that went on to win the championship.

The north central zone includes St. Albert and district.

Doctor: "I can't afford to. She's my best patient."

DON WILSON

... wants rematch

Gloves contenders declared

St. Albert Boxing Club has declared its representatives for the Bronze Gloves tournament in Breton on Dec. 7.

Novices who came out of the club fight-offs are:

Len Eschuk, 53 pounds; Gary Goodwin, 60 pounds; Allan Eschuk, 64 pounds; Jeff Holden, 75 pounds; Gary Ferguson, 80 pounds; Richard Vallee, 90 pounds; Don House, 105 pounds; Keith Merceredi, 108 pounds; Rene Vallee, 119 pounds; and Dale Hepner, 165 pounds.

Wilson loses 110-pound title

Fifteen-year-old Don Wilson of the St. Albert Boxing Club lost his 110-pound provincial amateur junior title Saturday night in Rocky Mountain House.

He dropped a decision to Dale Anderson of Rocky in a leather-popping battle that had the 300 fans out of their seats more than they were in the them.

Anderson's victory also gave him a position on the Alberta amateur junior team.

Wilson, boxing smoothly, held a good lead after two rounds but changed his style at the start of the third. Anderson, a solid slugger, popped him a few good shots on the head and carrying the fight to Wilson the rest of the way, got the decision.

Keith Wilson, one of the club's instructor's and Don's father, said a challenge would be issued and a rematch fought on neutral ground, probably in Edmonton.

Wilson had held the title since the spring, when he took it from Stephen Rattay of Red Deer.

This weekend, St. Albert boxers will be on the road to Fort McMurray.

Fights have been lined up for Jim Kelly and Neil Letourneau and there is also a possibility that Bob Forand will step into the ring.

Meeting on arena scheduled

The arena issue in St. Albert is not dead.

The Knights of Columbus have called a meeting for 8 p.m., in the fire hall on Sunday, Dec. 1, to explore avenues of getting an arena up by next winter.

The club will ask the town for the $75,000 it set aside for an arena as a result of the passing of a money-bylaw two years ago.

Anyone interested in an arena is welcome to attend.

All they lack is some ice

It all depends on the weatherman now.

The St. Albert Kinmen Minor Hockey Association held a meeting of coaches and managers Thursday night and only ice is needed to see the record number of teams in action.

Teams are being assembled this week, with the mite league jumping from nine to 17 teams.

The association tentatively scheduled another meeting for Dec. 8, however, it will be pushed ahead if the rinks are ready before then.

Pay as you play curling

How to lift the "roaring game" of curling from its present plateau? Pay-as-you-play may be the answer. This is being considered on the Prairies and in Ontario. The non-membership system appeals to many young curlers. They are more interested in the action than in the social aura surrounding membership. The curling boom has lost some of its steam, particularly in the curling-mad Prairie provinces that constitute the game's heartland. Pay-as-you-play could spark new interest.

*... a consumer-
adviser-promoter?*

Consumers and producers both benefit from Mrs. Linda Pickell's services. As Products Promotion Officer with the Information Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture, Linda keeps consumers informed, through her radio and television broadcasts, on good food selection, best buys in season and new products available. At the same time, she promotes Alberta products, widening market prospects for local industry. In addition to Mrs. Pickell's broadcasts, the Information Branch keeps the public informed on activities in agriculture through releases to press, radio and television and daily farm broadcasts over 11 rural stations in the province.

... a poultry room-and-board authority?

Jim McCowan and his fellow workers at the Provincial Poultry Plant work to improve living conditions for Alberta's chickens. Right now, they're carrying out a density study, to determine how many birds can be raised efficiently in a specified area, and tests to find out the most economical types of feeds. Experimental programs, such as the testing of commercial feeds recommended by manufacturers for broiler feeding programs, are carried out at the request of, and for the benefit of, the province's poultry industry by the Poultry Branch, Animal Industry Division, Alberta Department of Agriculture. The Branch also provides an extension program to keep producers informed on the latest development in the industry, and carries out regular inspections to keep the standards of quality of Alberta poultry at their highest.

have you ever met...

*... a better-
health-habit
former?*

Alberta community leaders who are concerned over health problems in their areas can enlist the assistance of Leo E. Marinier, in developing public health education programs. As Director of the Branch of Public Health Education, Alberta Department of Health, Mr. Marinier plans and prepares educational programs designed to help overcome such problems as air, soil and water pollution, noise pollution, accidental poisoning, and venereal diseases. These programs which include film strips, films, literature and other training aids, are made available through local medical health offices to hospitals, schools, community organizations and other interested agencies. Through evaluation of the problems, and the preparation of programs outlining their solutions, the Branch of Public Health Education makes a valuable contribution to the good health of our province.

informer?*

It's Mrs. Jean Rogerson's job to keep the public informed on government activities and she accomplishes this through the pages of "Within Our Borders" a monthly publication of the Alberta Government Publicity Bureau. Four Information Officers within the Bureau, including Mrs. Rogerson, cover all departments of government, reporting on new developments in government services. Their stories are published in the periodical, which is distributed free to anyone requesting it. At the present time, "Within Our Borders" has a circulation in the neighborhood of 29,000 and is distributed throughout the world, even behind the Iron Curtain.

*... an instructor
of outdoor enjoyment?*

Alberta's wide variety of geographical and climatic features offers a wealth of outdoor recreational opportunities. To help residents take advantage of these natural resources, Neil Andrews offers a training program to youth service organizations, community recreation leaders and other interested groups. As Outdoor Recreation Supervisor for the Recreation Branch, Alberta Department of Youth, he is prepared to organize programs in such subjects as wilderness camping, mountaineering, snow-shoeing, bird-watching and canoeing, to name just a few. Outdoor recreation is just one aspect of the assistance provided by the Recreation Branch in developing programs of constructive sports, recreation and leisure activities.

John Peters is one of the 25 men in Alberta who are paid to keep an eye on payrolls and working conditions at all the businesses in the province. They are inspectors of the Alberta Department of Labour's Board of Industrial Relations and they inspect the payrolls of employers regularly to make sure each employee is receiving his correct wages, vacation and holiday pay. Visits to 13,000 firms in 1967 resulted in $314,000 paid to employees who might not otherwise have received the money due to error, evasion or neglect by the employer. The inspections also assist employers by keeping them better informed of their responsibilities under labour legislation and to protect them from unjustified claims. The inspectors also ensure that other general working conditions such as sanitation, safety and welfare are up to standard.

For Jerry Wennes music is a way of life

Text by Hennie Stibbe

St. Albert man involved in wide variety of musical activities

For just a moment, the wide smile faded and a puzzled look came across the expressive face of Jerry Wennes. We had just asked him what his life would be like without music, and, obviously, that possibility is inconceivable to this 37 year old music-maker. "Well, it would be like, . . . well, I'd be helpless," he said, seeking for the right words. "Me without music would be like me without a voice, I'd have no way to express myself."

Studies began in Amsterdam continue at UofA

For Jerry Wennes, music is a way of life. Dutch born, Jerry started his musical studies at the Amsterdam Conservatory where he was a pupil of the principal clarinet player of the world renowned Amsterdam Concert Gebouw Orchestra.

Still, in those days Jerry was not quite certain of what it was he wanted to do, and he enrolled in a seven-year course in hat design. After two years of studying design, he was called into the Dutch Army where he put in his two year stint.

Jerry continued his music studies after his discharge. He replied to a recruiting campaign for professional musicians by the Canadian Government, was auditioned and consequently accepted, along with about 120 Dutch musicians. Jerry came to Canada in 1953, where he joined the PPCL Band in Calgary. In 1957 he was posted to Germany for two years where the band entertained the NATO troops. He came back to Canada in 1959 and, after living in Edmonton for a short time, moved to St. Albert.

Jerry's main instrument is the clarinet, but he can play and teaches all band instruments.

This fall, Jerry enrolled as a full time student at the University of Alberta, working towards a Bachelor of Education degree.

"Happy music" is "Bohemian" appeal

Jerry heads "The Bohemians," a well known and popular band, also known as the "Happy Wanderers." He does all the arrangements for the group. "We play a rousy-dousy type of happy music," says Jerry. The band averages three engagements per week, appearing usually at private clubs, such as the Hillcrest, Derruck and the Petroleum Club. Then there are conventions, Klondike Days engagements, and special events around the Edmonton area.

Last year, Jerry took his band to Montreal, where they were featured at Expo. He has appeared on radio and television and plays at the Sunday afternoon concerts sponsored by the Edmonton Parks and Recreation Department during the summer months.

New Comers

We welcome the following families to St. Albert: Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Crate and family and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Jwaszko and family of Sturgeon Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Remi G. De Champlain of Mission Park area and Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Freilberg and family of the Grandin Park district.

Exuberant music for fun is made more colorful by the Bavarian national dress worn by the "Bohemians." The group, directed by Mr. Jerry Wennes, (above) is popular with the patrons of many city clubs where they entertain.

Classical his favourite, but ...

Jerry says he prefers classical music and several years ago he helped organize the St. Albert Chamber Music Society. "But," he says, "we have to cater to what the people want," adding that the demand for classical music is limited, and he could not make a career of it at the present time.

"Music is one thing that draws people all over the world together. 'Man is born with rhythm, it is a common bond,'" says Mr. Wennes.

In between all these musical activities, this talented, and extremely energetic man has found time to design his own lovely home at 71 Geneva Crescent, where he lives with his wife Coby, a former singer, and daughters Jacqueline, 6, and Frances, 10. And Jerry has designed several other homes in the area as well.

Teacher, Bandmaster and Businessman

Jerry teaches music privately, and directs the St. Albert Separate Protestant School bands which now have 58 members in the junior division and 26 boys and girls in the senior band. Jerry is extremely proud of the progress his young charges have made. "There are some real talented kids there," he says. "Some of them will have a good future as professional musicians."

Mr. Wennes manages the Edmonton Concert Band and was recently appointed musical director of the Strutters Drum and Bugle Band. A short time ago, he founded Jerry Wennes Enterprises, a booking agency which handles six bands.

One of Jerry's dreams is to have a "real good town band" in St. Albert. He says he would help as much as humanly possible to help bring this about, adding his advice would be available to anyone willing to start such a band.

City drafts noise by-law

Edmonton City Solicitor Alan MacDonald has prepared a draft of an anti-noise bylaw and has urged city council to hold public hearings on it.

Presentation of the draft follows repeated calls by Alderman Mrs. Julia Klinski for measures to control automobile and other noise.

The bylaw provides for prosecution of operators of unduly noisy motor vehicles and alternatively, for issuance of a notice requiring an operator to submit his vehicle to an inspection within seven days. The vehicle would be tested at the expense of the owner or operator.

Any charge under the bylaw would be in addition to charges under the Alberta Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act.

The proposed noise bylaw would also restrict the operation of power or hand lawn mowers and snow clearing devices powered by engines from eight in the morning to ten at night.

In respect to noisy vehicle operation after ten, police would be required to lay a charge if the constable felt residents were unduly disturbed.

School bazaar draws thousands

by Hennie Stibbe

Over seven thousand guests visited the Winnifred Stewart School for Retarded Children last Wednesday, the day of the school's annual tea and bazaar.

Almost all of the school's 386 students participated in some way in the event. All of the items offered for sale were made by the students.

Now a tradition with Edmonton and district residents, the first such event was held in 1954, the bazaar offered a huge variety of beautiful gift items.

The stage in the school auditorium was aglitter with hundreds of sparkling Christmas decorations. There were styro foam balls, stars and wreaths, each decorated with ribbons, sequins, sprigs of holly and mistletoe in lovely color combinations.

Santa's sleigh was there, along with pine cone centre-pieces, angels, candleholders, artistically arranged wall plaques and many more.

There were hand screened Christmas cards, beautifully smoked aprons, hand-woven goods, ceramics, nursery furniture, jewelry, corsages, knitted and leathers goods and a host of other items.

When the doors closed at 10 p.m., everything had been sold. Proceeds will go towards the residences the school plans to build. These will provide a home for those students whose parents have passed away.

The event was convened by Mrs. Irvine Liknes.

Mrs. Irvine Liknes, left, and Mrs. Winnifred Stewart take a moment to pose for the Gazette photographer during Wednesday's Tea and Bazaar.

Salvation Army makes Christmas merry for many Captain Mel Bond, P.R.O. Salvation Army Christmas Cheer and Welfare Board, said today that the year-round welfare services will be greatly expanded during December to provide seasonal aid to families in need.

Christmas hampers or hamper certificates will be given to more than 500 families, and youngsters will be provided with toys. Last year, 851 adults and 1,259 children were helped in this way, Captain Bond said.

Christmas dinner and party treats will be provided for the 300 residents in the three Salvation Army institutions.

On Thursday, Dec. 19, a Christmas dinner with all the trimmings will be served at noon at the Troc 59 at 10151 - 102 street. The Salvation Army expects some 300 destitute and homeless men will attend this annual event.

The Salvation Army League of Mercy, who are all volunteer workers will gather at the Temple Corps on Dec. 9 for operation "sunshine bag." Bingo !

Two weeks ago Mrs. Marcel Dupuis of 13008 - 126 St. held a bingo card with only one number to fill for an $850 jackpot. Four calls later it was still empty and the jackpot was in someone else's handbag. Last week, however, it was a different story. Mrs. Dupuis won the $2,000 IGA bingo and she and daughters Michelle, Debbie and Louise, shown with Pennie Berwick, cashier at Calder IGA from whom Mrs. Dupuis got her winning card, had good reason to smile. Mrs. Dupuis, with her daughters and sons Paul, Jack and Richard, were accompanied by Jimmy Clark, owner of Calder IGA, as guests on CFRN-TV's noon show. Mrs. Dupuis's husband, Albert, is manager of the Simpson-Sears' service station in Bonnie Doon.

the champions, was close to thirty one cents a pound. This is down from last year's thirty four and three quarters.

Top price for an Alberta steer was thirty seven cents and the average price for the eight championship winners was 73.40.

An absence of competitive buyers was noted with only one large supermarket chain and only one of the three large cross Canada packing plants bidding. Several smaller Ontario meat packers as well as a handful of Western Canadian based firms were purchasing the four hundred offerings. Alberta exhibitors were very disappointed in the selling price of their animals which averaged just over thirty cents.

The driver who thinks he knows it all is especially annoying to those of us who do.

Travel is more fun when you know the angles

If you want to get a brother out of New Delhi, a sister out of Tokyo or an aunt out of Copenhagen, the wheels can be turning in a matter of minutes.

They will be put in motion by a man who can move people anywhere in the world by plane, ship, train or bus, and schedule them almost to the minute.

As the saying goes, it's what the travel agency business is all about.

Just ask Jose (Pape) Guasp, whose Inter-Nation Travel Agency at 10437 124 St. is set up to handle just about any kind of travel situation you care to name. "Many people don't know," Mr. Guasp said, "that using a travel agent doesn't cost them any money. Airplane fares are set by the International Air Transport Association. We get our commission from the airline that flies the customer."

It's the same right down the line, steamships, hotels etc., they pay for the travel agent's services.

"Many people will try to arrange their trip themselves," Mr. Guasp said, "and often they will book themselves into hotels they can't really afford or that are not as convenient for their purposes as they could have. They also may find themselves paying extra for transportation that actually is included in the price of their air fare.

"It's our business to know what's going on in travel. We know the hotels and can get one to fit the customer's budget. We know what airline to use to get a customer to a certain destination. To get to Copenhagen, you can fly to Montreal and then to Copenhagen with one carrier. However, the best way is to go to Amsterdam, then hop from there to Copenhagen."

Mr. Guasp said that with a ticket to Rome, people can whistle stop all over Europe, staying over at places like London, Paris, Frankfurt, etc.

He said a travel agent can plan a trip from one end to the other, or just so much of the trip, leaving the customer to cruise about on his own at times.

Booking through a travel agent also gives a traveller a more varied shot at excursion rates.

Mr. Guasp is chairman of the Edmonton District Travel Agents Association, the group which makes this possible.

"One agency will book 15 seats on a certain flight for a group rate," he said. "However, all agencies will have access to these seats, assuring that they will be filled. It gives people a chance for many more dates at the cheapest rates."

Mr. Guasp, as may be expected, is a great booster of Spain as a vacation spot. He believes it has something of interest to everyone.

As it was invaded by the Romans and the Arabs, it has the remains of three civilizations.

He is also strong on the Canary Islands as one of the new playgrounds of the world's travellers.

"Europeans have been enjoying the Canary Islands for years," he said, "but people in North America seemed to think they were too far away. That has all been changed. They can get there for the price of a trip to Europe. We have set up a program so everyone can take advantage of it."

Mr. Guasp says he can send a person on a three-week holiday to Spain for $499, which includes transportation, meals and accommodation. He also has a package deal for the Canary Islands, $686, for which you visit Spain, the Canary Islands, and Morocco and Casablanca.

Mr. Guasp said most excursions were of three weeks duration because that seemed to suit most people. "Most people get three weeks holidays," he explained, "and in that time most people have had enough. They are fed up with living out of a suitcase, eating foreign food and struggling with another language. The human body can take only so much."

Canadian books for gift giving

A number of excellent books about Canada, by Canadian writers have been published in recent weeks. Among the many titles there should be something to please everyone on your Christmas list.

"Erebus"

Slummy north end Winnipeg, with its slaughterhouses, furnished rooms, greasy spoon cafes and ramshackle beer parlors come to life in Robert Hunter's "Erebus."

The hero is a young man growing up in Winnipeg, beering with his friends, brooding on life, stumbling into baroque situations with various women, exploring the world, trying to be a writer.

As in real life, nothing happens, except a lot of funny things.

"This rock within the sea"

Farley Mowat brings a typical Newfoundland outport to unforgettable life. He writes with power and tenderness of this fast vanishing world and its people. His superb prose is set against the counterpoint of John de Visser's spectacular photography.

This Rock Within the Sea is a fitting requiem for a way of life that will never be seen again.

The Taming of the Canadian West

After travelling 10,000 miles, burrowing into dusty archives, and interviewing descendants of the early frontiersmen, Frank Rasky, was able to amass this 270 page, 100,000 word giant volume, the only popular history of its kind ever written. Its 242 illustrations, taken from museums, archives and private collections across North America, include 53 lavish paintings, many of them never seen by the public before.

The 10 separate picture album stories present a panorama, often quaint, funny and sentimental, showing, among others: The Proud People, aristocrats of the Indian tribes; The Hunters, how the Indian caught, shot and made walking dollhouse and hardware stores out of the buffalo; The Steel Goes West, displaying how the herculean task was achieved of blasting a railroad across the Rockies; The Land Hunger, about the early frontiersmen invading the empty, lone land; and How the Cities Began, revealing the growth of such cities as Winnipeg, Edmonton and Vancouver.

Rasky debunks the legendary trek of the Mounties who set out from Fort Dufferin, Manitoba, to clean out the Yankee hooligans who were peddling rot-pot whiskey to Alberta's Blackfoot Indians at Fort Whooop-Up, near the Montana border. "The green recruits from Ontario," he says, "were a pack of amateur horsemen, who themselves had to admit they should have been called the 'Dismounted Police' rather than the 'Mounted Police.'"

Pepe Guasp

He found a career through his wife

Jose (Pepe) Guasp was born in Barcelona, Spain, in 1935. He attended university in Barcelona and upon graduation worked as a business consultant.

He came to Canada and Edmonton in September of 1963, joining Continental Importers, where he remained for three years.

In 1966, he became a partner of Emil Drucker's in Inter-Nation.

Actually, Mr. Guasp was introduced to the travel business by his wife, Inge. She was working at Globe Travel Agency when they met. When Mr. Drucker bought Inter-Nation, she went to work for him. A short time later, Pepe joined the firm as general manager and part owner.

At that time, Inter-Nation was at 97th Street and 105th Avenue. It was moved to the present quarters at 10437 - 124th St., early in 1968. Mr. Guasp considers himself the youngest grandfather in Edmonton at 33. Inge was a widow with a teen-aged daughter when they met. The daughter is now married and has presented the Guasps with a grandchild.

PEPE GUASP

When the Guasps go on holiday, it is sort of a half-and-half proposition. Pepe is always looking for new places and also for anything new in the old spots.

"I want to know where we're sending people," he said. "I want to know firsthand what everything is like. We have access to a great amount of information on nearly every place in the world, but if you see it, you know it's right. . ."

New show soon at Arts Centre

From Dec. 2 - 17, the Arts Centre will feature another exhibition from the Arts and Crafts Division, Cultural Development Branch, Government of Alberta. Demonstrations of batik and block-printing will be given. The public is invited to learn more about these crafts and visit the Arts Centre during the following hours: Mondays, 8 - 10 p.m., Tuesdays, 7 - 10 p.m., Wednesdays, 9:30 - 11:30 a.m., 1:30 - 3:30 p.m., 7 - 9 p.m., Saturdays, 10 to 12 a.m. For conducted group tours telephone Mrs. J. Bakker at 599-6225 or Mrs. J. Holgersen at 599-7513. Admission is free.

With both block printing and batik there are endless possibilities for self-expression in truly original design - most refreshing in this day of mass-production. In batik, colour is applied to fabric through an ancient process involving "blocking out" with wax and dyeing. The results are really striking.

ing giving wonderful effects through texture and light and the finished fabric can be used for wall-hangings, curtains and home decoration. Block printing is also a "blocking out" method using linoleum. The surface is cut and the uncut areas are left to print the colour on the fabric.

Legal couple celebrates Silver Wedding

Some 250 friends and relatives gathered at the Legal Community Centre to extend their best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Montpetit on their 25th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Montpetit were married on Oct. 19, 1943 in St. Jean Baptist Church in Morinville by Father Barbeau.

They have lived and raised their five children on a farm in the Legal community.

The bride of 25 years chose a lovely dress and jacket ensemble of white puffed brocade highlighted with silver flowers and complimented by a corsage of red roses. Her silver accessories matched her outfit.

Following the social evening a delicious supper was served. The head table was decorated with silver candles and a beautiful three tiered wedding cake topped with a novelty silver 25 for the special occasion.

Master of ceremonies Walter Van De Walle offered his best wishes to the couple and reminisced a few events of 25 years ago.

Miss Bertha Montpetit, Mr. Victor Douzich, and

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT MONTPETIT

Mr. Arthur Morin entertained with appropriate songs. Robert Jr. presented his parents with a purse on a silver tray from the children. Both parents spoke in reply.

Mr. Montpetit called upon Mr. and Mrs. Armand Pare who had come from Strathmore especially for their anniversary, to stand because he wanted to thank him again for saving his life from a tractor accident in the fall of 1950. Mr. Montpetit said, "We will always be grateful to this man, thanks to him I'm with you tonight to celebrate our anniversary."

Special thanks were extended to everyone for attending and to the Montpetit children for organizing that lovely evening in their honor.

Vimy Column

Mr. and Mrs. Ulric Landry were feted at their home on the occasion of their 20th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Marchak have taken up residence in Edmonton for the winter months.

Mr. Claude Huot was the lucky winner of a $50 bill raffled by the Clyde Sports Association.

The Huot Runsmen have had a very successful hunting trip.

The Vimy Rockets of the Sturgeon River senior hockey league have opened practices for the 1968-69 season. The season will open by an all-star game featuring the Vimy Rockets vs. All Stars, tentative date set for Dec. 8 in the Westlock arena. The Annual Turkey Bingo sponsored by the Sports Association will be held in the Community Hall on Sunday, Dec. 1st at 8 p.m. Season tickets are available from board members. Continued success is hoped for with co-operation and interest as in past years.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Burt were Mr. and Mrs. Mary Lindsay from Slave Lake.

Miss Linda Despins was feted at a bridal shower held at the home of Mrs. M. Clement, hostessed by Misses Linda Miller and Sharon Despins. The guest of honor was lovely wearing a light blue simplicity style dress with a white chantilly lace overdress and a corsage of pink roses. The 30 ladies present enjoyed the afternoon of fun and games which terminated with a delicious lunch. Linda is the bride-elect of Mr. M. Nicholson.

A parent-day report card day was held on Nov. 30. The pupils' parents appreciated the time and interest the teachers put into this important event.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Burt were Mr. and Mrs. Mary Lindsay from Slave Lake.

Legal girl weds Morinville man

A lovely afternoon wedding was solemnized recently at the Immaculate Conception Roman Catholic Church of Edmonton when Lynn Marie, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herve St. Onge of Legal, joined hands with Robert Henry, son of Mrs. Antoinette Foud of Morinville. Monsignor Ketchen performed the double ring ceremony. An appropriate hymn was sung by Mr. Lucien Lorieau.

The beautiful bride, given in marriage by her father, was extra charming in a floor length sleeveless wedding gown of white patterned nylon chiffon with slim skirt, round neckline and topped with a floor length coat of lace with lily-point sleeves. She wore a pair of cultured pearl earrings, a gift of the groom. Her long flowing mantilla veil of illusion net and lace was accented with a sparkling crystal and pearl tiara. The bride carried a cascading bouquet of red roses and stephanotis.

The chosen bridesmaids were Miss Emile Prefontaine and Miss Simone Demers. Each wore a sleeveless slim floor length gown of blue pea de creme and carried a bouquet of white and blue-tinted carnations. Each bridesmaid's dark hair was piled high and ornamented with a dainty tiara.

Lilliane, the only sister of the bride was junior bridesmaid. She was pretty attired in a frock similar to the bridesmaids and carried a nosegay of carnations.

The mother of the bride looked especially elegant in a stylish suit of aqua brocade with black accessories.

The mother of the groom was tastefully dressed in a smart coat-dress of brown bonded wool with milk trim and matching hat.

Mr. Garry Himschoot and Mr. Marcel St. Onge attended the groom and the ushers were Mr. Laurent Rivet and Mr. D. Foud.

Following the ceremony, relatives and friends were entertained in a banquet room of the Bonaventure Motor Hotel and later, dinner was served to more than one hundred guests. The head table supported a three tier wedding cake made and decorated by the groom's mother. It was topped with a miniature bride and groom ornament and featured icing bells and flowers.

Mr. Henry Lamoureux, a cousin of the groom, was master of ceremonies. Mr. Roland Ricard, an uncle of the bride, asked the blessing. Mr. Garry Himschoot who flew in from Toronto led the toast to the bride.

After the banquet, dancing and visiting were enjoyed by all with the "Star-lighters" supplying the music. As a special request from the bride, Mr. Victor Douzich sang "I'll Be Loving You Eternally."

On Nov. 2, a gift opening was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herve St. Onge in Legal.

The happy couple has now taken up residence in Morinville.

NOT FOR BREEDING

A woman called a hardware store and said she wanted a three-quarter inch plug. The clerk asked, "Do you want a male plug, a female plug or both?"

"I just want to stop a leak," the woman replied. "I do not want to raise them."

Joe: "Did I get a surprise this morning. I put on a suit I hadn't worn since last fall and in one of the pockets I found a roll of bills I had forgotten."

Mo: "Boy, how lucky can you get!"

Joe: "Oh, I don't know. Not a one of them was paid!"

Ringuette-Cloutier Wedding

St. Benoit's Roman Catholic Church, Picardville, was the scene of a beautiful fall wedding Nov. 16 when Miss Lauraine Cloutier became the bride of Mr. Omer Ringuette, Rev. Fr. Lucien Teller performed the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clem Cloutier of Picardville and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Dupuis of Vimy.

The beautiful bride given in marriage by her father, chose a floor length gown of Terylene. The fitted bodice was accented by pearl appliques around the neckline and the bouffant skirt was enhanced by rows of chantilly lace. Her silk illusion shoulder length veil was held in place by a double crystal tiara. She wore a pearl necklace and earrings, a gift of the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and rosebud streamers.

Bridal attendants were Misses Pauline Dupuis,

Pauline Ringuette, Lois Hammer and Josephine Maisonneuve. They wore floor-length gowns of red velvet featuring empire waistlines and A-line skirts. Completing their ensembles were bouquets of red and white roses and crystal headpieces.

The groom's attendants were Mr. Roland Fagan, Mr. Roger Cloutier, Mr. Wilfrid Ringuette and Mr. Darcy Barte.

Flower girl, Miss Judy Cunningham wore a floor length gown identical in design to the bridesmaids, Master Brian Dumonceaux was ring bearer.

Ushering the guests were Mr. Leo Bessette and Mr. Vince Dumonceaux, uncles of the bride. Wedding music was played by Mrs. P. Cloutier and solos were rendered by Mr. L. Provost.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cloutier chose a bone colored laminated dress of wool complemented by beige accessories and red roses on corsage. The groom's mother wore a silver and turquoise dress of brocade with black accessories and her corsage was of red roses.

Following the ceremony a reception and banquet was held at the Vimy Community Hall where Mr. Joe Nadeau was master of ceremonies. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. George St. Arnaud. The bridal table was centred by a three tiered wedding cake flanked by white lighted tapers. A wedding dance followed with a large crowd in attendance.

For a wedding trip to Banff and Jasper the bride donned a two piece suit of laminated wool complemented by fur trimmings and a corsage of red roses. Upon their return the happy couple will reside in Picardville.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were from Peace River, Groulxville, Lac La Biche, Edmonton, Beaumont, Dawson Creek, and Barrhead.

Crowd enjoys parish supper

The annual parochial turkey supper was held last Sunday and proved to be a big success. Many friends from the neighboring towns enjoyed the evening. At 6:30 Mile Fete au Village (Lorraine Brisson) opened the program and welcomed everyone to the evening of entertainment games and bingo that would follow.

The variety program was well received and Miss Nicole Cyr and Mr. Hudson Noele should be commended for the selections presented by their choirs. A special thank you was extended to all those who participated.

The $5, prize Bingo winners were Henri Charrois, Rock Proulx, Laurier Brisson, Louise Quaghebeur, Michelle Brisson, Diane Betz, Lorraine Pelletier, Roger Mercier, Leon St. Martin. The $25, game was won by Rose Blodeau and Sister Corrivue (they divided the money), and the $50 game was won by Sylvia Charrois and Norman Vandenhouten shared the amount. "It goes to show what good spirit and community effort can accomplish when people work together."

Is the world's health our concern

by Dr. J. M. Howell,
Medical Officer of Health,
Sturgeon Health Unit.

The major social and economic factors which our country is trying to rectify—poverty, injustice, discrimination and physical illness—are also important in countries struggling to reach a level of development sufficient to adequately ensure minimum health care. Of course there are other basic needs like a supply of safe drinking water, sufficient quality and quantity of food and enough housing to prevent over-crowding. Two-thirds of the world's people, including more than three-quarters of all the children in the world, live in such situations. In a developed country where the average life-span is about 70 years, children under 14 constitute 20% of the population; in the developing countries where average life expectancy is 35 years, children under 14 constitute some 50% of the population and represent a proportionately greater strain on the economy.

INFANTS AND CHILDREN SUFFER

Infant mortality, which in Canada is around 25 per thousand live births, climbs as high as 400 per thousand in some African and Asian communities. The number of deaths in the period immediately after birth is also very high in these countries and this is hardly surprising since the baby has developed in a permanently under-nourished mother, whose exposure to numerous infections and infestations has weakened her general health.

In the first year of life many babies succumb to infections and parasitic diseases. Pre-school and school children often die as a result of the common childhood diseases like measles, simply because they are under-nourished and unable to withstand these infections. The parents may be ill-prepared to provide care for the child because of poverty, overwork, lack of knowledge or because the culture to which they belong imposes unusual child-rearing practices.

Productivity is extremely low: the average weekly income per head is about $2.50. As regard to health needs, these include national action programs against specific diseases, mid-wife services, child health services and general treatment services and improvements in environmental health. Networks of health centres and sub-centres radiating from central hospital clinics need to be established.

GOOD RECORD ON TINY BUDGET

The annual budget of the WHO amounts to only two hundred million dollars annually, only a fraction of the cost of our own health services. Nevertheless, in a period of fifteen years, the World Health Organization succeeded, for example, in treating 43 million people

Diana Borduzak new Carnival Queen

WAUGH - The Waugh St. Mary Ukrainian Catholic Church Carnival was held recently at Half Moon Hall. The master of ceremonies Mr. Nick Warwaruk welcomed the huge crowd and introduced the Rev. Olesky Zacharyashevych, the three charming candidates, Diana Borduzak, Sonia Rasko and Shirley Chmilar.

When former Queen Alma Kollisnyk was introduced and the big moment of suspense had finally arrived, Diana Borduzak was announced winner and called forward to be crowned by Alma.

Every girl spoke and thanked their supporters and all those who had encouraged them. They were then presented with a lovely gift on behalf of the church group. The newly elected 1968 Carnival Queen, her princesses and their escorts danced a waltz to the music of the Northern Troubadours.

The lucky ticket holder for the clock was Mr. Alise Pirle of Edmonton.

Queen Diana drew the other five tickets, 1st prize was won by Jeannette Kolewaski of Fort McMurray, Alta. 2nd prize went to Art Pelletier, Legal. 3rd prize was won by Wm. Demers, Legal. 4th prize was won by Rolfe Miles of Edmonton, and the 5th Jean Teulie, Legal.

The evening of excitement and dancing ended with God Save the Queen.
